Information
Server

Mobile
Users

Stationary
Users

100

102

104

A simple overview of how users and the Information Server may interact.

FIG. 1

Operations performed in audio information retrieval.

FIG. 2

Information Server block diagram.

FIG. 3

Information
Server

100

406
User position

408
Audio

Automatic
Call Answering Service

412

400
User dials number

402
System requests position

404A
Cellular phone responds
with position

404B
User provides position

410
Audio

User

102

A simple cellular phone-based use of the system.

FIG. 4

500 — User dials number

502 — System requests position

504A — Cellular phone responds with position

504B — User Provides Position

510 — Menu of choices

512 — User selects from menu

518 — Audio

506 — User position

508 — No. of items

514 — Specific audio request

516 — Audio

100 — Information Server

412 — Automatic Call Answering Service

102 — User
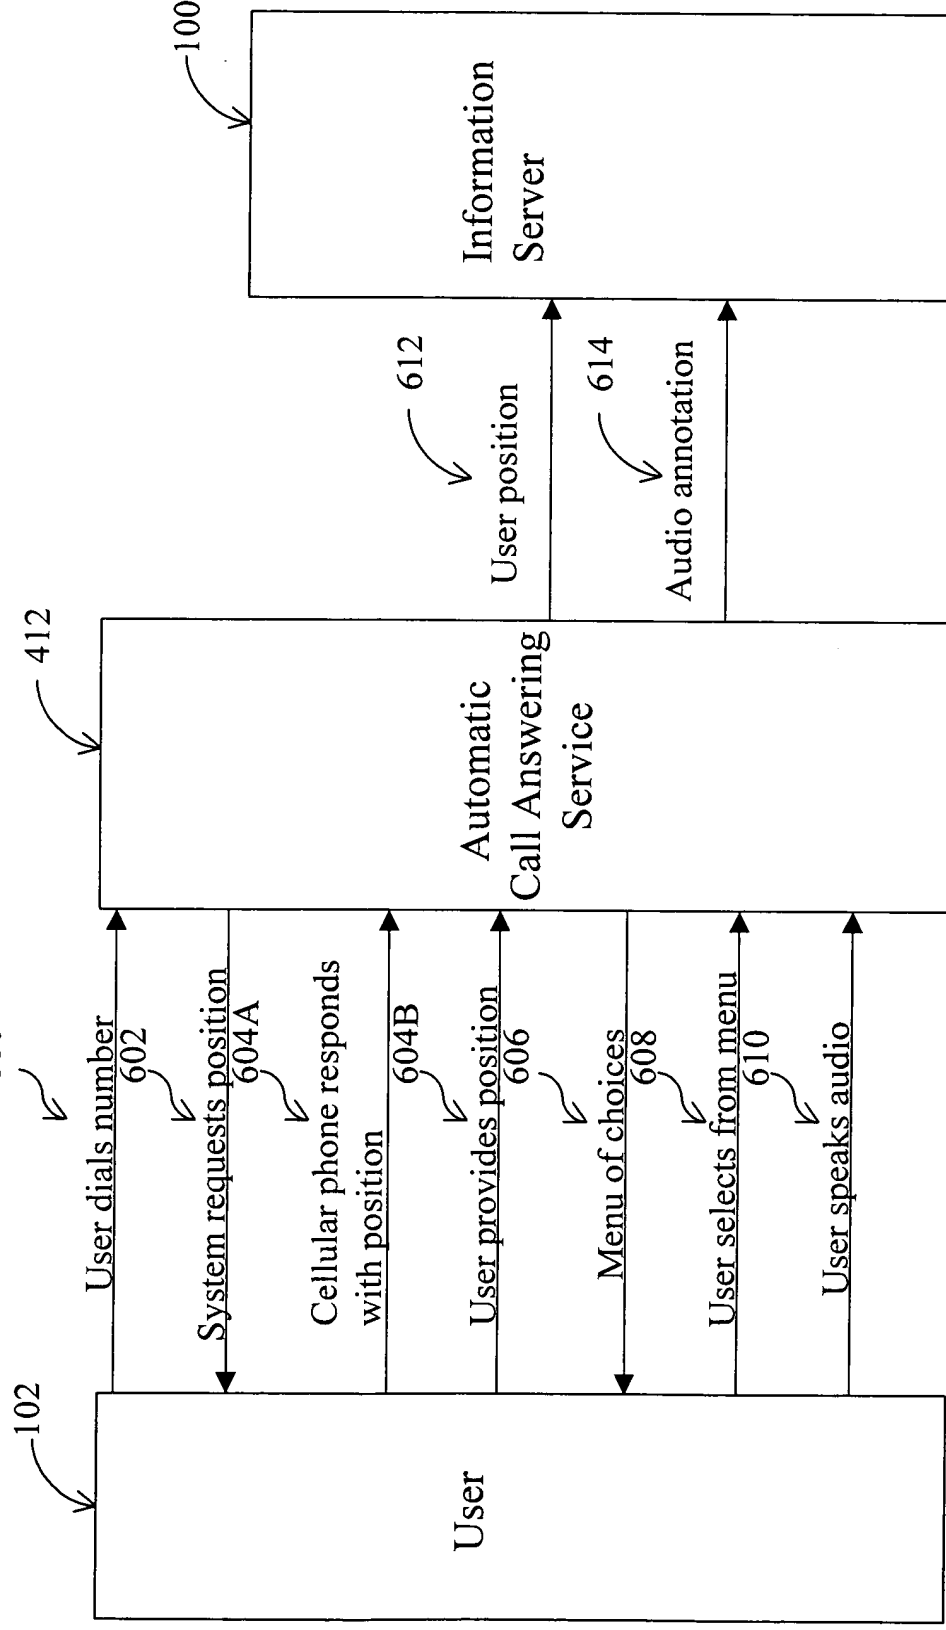

A menu-based interaction between the user with a cellular phone and the system

FIG. 5

A user adds audio annotation and the user's current position to the Information Server.

FIG. 6